

Alumni Profile
Aaron Concha, Full-Time MBA Class of 2018

Career

Please provide a brief overview of your career path since graduating from UCI.

Consulting for P3 North America

What made you get into the career that you are in?

The challenge, is why I chose this career. No two days are the same, and when you master one project, you move onto the next. It's a constant learning environment that combines, both project and account management, to build relationships with clients and effective team organization.

How do you hope to make a difference?

As so many have assisted me during my career journey, I plan on growing my business acumen to support others as they explore their career path.

Your Time at UCI

When did you attend UCI?

2016 to 2018

What program were you in?

Full-Time MBA program

Why did you choose to come to UCI?

The admissions director immediately appreciated the advantages my service in the army would bring to the business world.

Reflections

What made you decide to pursue a graduate degree?

After serving as a medic in the Afghanistan, I was not sure how to transfer my skills from the army to civilian life. Taking the advice of some officers I worked with, I chose to apply to business schools.

Alumni Life

How did your education at UCI benefit you in your current life?

I studied organizational behavior in class, but the real learning started with MSA (Merage Student Association). How to take something from an idea into an actual product or service; how to create buy-in. What I learned through MSA is unparalleled

What advice would you give to a current graduate student as they look towards their future careers?

Take advantage of the Career Center. They offer all the resources you need to succeed.