

Student Profile

Aseel Abusoud – Master of Finance Program

Your Time at UCI

What made you decide to pursue a graduate degree?

The Master of Finance at the University of California, Irvine will enhance the financial and technical skills that I require to optimize my productivity and decision making. It will provide me the tools to explore the scopes of investment management, corporate finance, and financial risk management, which are highly valued in our competitive market.

Why did you choose to come to UCI?

University of California Irvine is one of the top leading research universities in the United States. The strategic clear vision that UCI holds guarantees your academic and personal success. UCI provides a great opportunity for students to enhance their personal development and growth. Irvine is a beautiful city located in Orange County California. It is consistently ranked as one of the safest neighborhoods among U.S Cities.

What are your hobbies/passions outside of research?

My hobbies are listening to music, hanging-out by the beach, swimming, cooking and inventing new cooking recipes.

Reflections

What are you most proud of accomplishing (so far) in your graduate program?

I am very proud to be graduating from UCI Paul Merage School of Business. Throughout this experience, my education and personal development has shaped my personality and boosted my confidence. I had the opportunity to work in a highly competitive leading organization that cultivated competency, diversity, and innovation. I am grateful to the Paul Merage School of Business Faculty and Staff who enabled me to enhance my knowledge in finance and grow academically and professionally.

Career

How do you hope to make a difference?

I am a hard working target oriented team player financier with a clear vision on how to shape my passion and commitment to excel in the financial business world.
