

CSULB/UCI PRE-Professor Program (PREPP)

Program Description

The PRE-Professor Program (PREPP) is designed to support the University of California, Irvine (UCI) doctoral students' and postdoctoral scholars' transition to a faculty position by engaging them in a semester-long program at California State University, Long Beach (CSULB). In addition, PREPP is a blueprint to support CSULB's efforts to foster a pipeline for prospective new faculty. The goal of PREPP is to immerse participants in the life of a faculty member at a comprehensive master's granting institution. PREPP fellows will have individual mentorship from an experienced Faculty Mentor in three broad categories: Instruction, Understanding the Campus Culture, and Service.

For the Fall 2021 cohort, we accept applications from candidates with expertise in any discipline/department represented at CSULB (please see link for departments at CSULB <https://www.csulb.edu/academic-affairs/colleges/colleges-departments>). Underrepresented students are encouraged to apply.
